Bathers at hot springs in the Thermenregion, south of Vienna, cool off with zesty whites made from the indigenous zierfandler grape.

Weingut Stadlmann's floral, dry 2006 Zierfandler Classic, a brisk aperitif, costs $14.99 at Nancy's Wines for Food, 313 Columbus Avenue (75th Street).

The Classic may create interest in Stadlmann's pricier and more complex Mandelhöh vineyard zierfandler, which surpasses many Burgundies.
